Zionist Approach in Political & Organizational Action

Abstract: This study deals with one of the issues of the Arab – Zionist struggle, It examines the political organizational forms which Zionism/Israel has followed in its efforts to realize its goals, and how it co-ordinated between the available means out and inside Palestine. As a movement, Zionism has exceeded its Patriarchs thought when it adopted "Organization", as one of its tools to mobilize Jewish communities to follow it. Some times it revealed or covered its real aims. It also identified its mutual interaction between several articles (military action, settlement, organization, doctrine and publicity, diplomacy and international recognition).In regard to the vast distance between its goals and the surrounding facts, Zionism has adopted a public and gradual approach that is based on the principles of reality, flexibility, unreverse and escalation. Then the study concentrates on organizational form, especially correlations between The World Zionist Organization and the Jewish Agency by its various organs, levels and problems. The political form was embodied by the political system of Israel, its official authorities and un-official powers taken by mutual interdependence. The Study used descriptive, legal, analytical and comparative approaches to obtain its goals.
