

1991 - 1990

1991/1990

Abstract: The study deals with the effect of the external factor on Egypt's political behaviour towards Iraq during the crisis and the second Gulf war from 1990 to 1991 through the discussion of several frameworks and theories that dealt with forms of changes in countries foreign policies. Special emphasis is laid on the impact of the external factor on a country's behaviour towards another. In addition, the study highlights the changes in Egypt's behaviour towards Iraq shortly before and during the crisis and the most prominent tools used by Egypt whether political, diplomatic, informational, economic and military. The study, moreover, provides an interpretation to the reasons for this change. An analysis and evaluation of this behaviour was made in the light of gains and losses.
